

WORKSHOPS:

Making Sense of Your Finances and Health Insurance

Join us for a workshop on either December 12 or December 15 about health insurance options for 2018 open enrollment and how to manage your money and finances. The workshops will both be held at the North Clinic, Stickney Township Public Health District. The deadline to enroll in a health insurance plan through the marketplace is December 15 at midnight, so register now to make sure you make the best enrollment decision for you.

Entrepreneurs, self-employed, individuals interested in entrepreneurship and people who want to learn more about health insurance options and financial tactics for their wellbeing are invited. Learn about:

- Health insurance options and how to beware of “junk” plans
- Where to access no-cost help to enroll in a health plan
- No- and low-cost local organizations to assist with your finances and financial-related stress
- Creating a financial plan for your business, health and home goals

These workshops are no cost. RSVP for your spot today! Both workshops will be held at:
